

Arizona Real Estate Agent Licensing Checklist

Here are the things you need to do if you want to become a real estate agent in Arizona:

- Complete Pre-licensing Coursework
 - Take 90 classroom hours of approved real estate education
 - Obtain a pre-licensure education certificate
 - Complete six-hour contract writing course prior to license application

- Meet Fingerprinting Requirements
 - Apply for fingerprinting and a background check through Fieldprint
 - Submit a Fingerprint Clearance Card with your license application

- Register for the Licensing Exam
 - Contact Pearson VUE to make a reservation to take the licensing exam

- Familiarize Yourself With the Exam
 - National Exam - General Practice Areas
 - Arizona-specific Material

- Prepare for the Licensing Exam
 - Take an exam prep course to help you study

- Take (and Pass) the Licensing Exam
 - You may take the exam at a center in Flagstaff, Phoenix, Tucson, or Yuma
 - To apply for a license, you must pass the exam with a score of 75% or higher
 - Remember to bring the necessary materials to the exam
 - Once you pass the national and Arizona-specific portions, you will receive a passing score report at the testing center
 - The passing score report serves as your application

- Choose an Agency or Brokerage
 - Applicants must identify a brokerage to hold your license once it's granted
 - Consider where you want to live, average listing and sales prices in various markets, mentorship opportunities, etc.

- Submit Your License Application
 - After passing the exam, obtain an applicant ID from ADRE
 - Submit application, fingerprinting card, and other required documents online

- Keep Up With Continuing Education Requirements